DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Specification

2. The following is a quotation of an appropriate paragraph of 37 CFR 1.75:

(d) The claim or claims must conform to the invention as set forth in the remainder of the specification and the terms and phrases used in the claims must find clear support or antecedent basis in the description so that the meaning of the terms in the claims may be ascertainable by reference to the description. (See 1.58(a)).

3. Specification is objected under 37 C.F.R. 1.75(d) because two fixed contacts and two first movable contacts corresponding to each other has not been described (see claims 9-15).

Drawings

4. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, two fixed contacts and two first movable contacts corresponding to each other must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claims 9-15. No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

6. Claims 9-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Two fixed contacts and two first movable contacts corresponding to each other have been neither shown nor described.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2839

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-5 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zech et al. (2001/0005645).

Zech (Figures 1-5) shows a coaxial connector 10 with a switch having a housing 12 with an accommodation chamber for accommodating a fixed terminal 20 and a switch terminal 30 with an elastically deformable U-shaped section open towards a pin insertion hole wherein the contact of the switch terminal with the fixed terminal is cut off when a pin is inserted in the accommodation chamber. The fixed terminal has a fixed contact parallel to the direction in which the pin is inserted and the U-shaped section of the switch terminal has a first and second movable contacts. The second contact is brought into contact with the pin inserted in the accommodation chamber. The U-shaped section comprises first and second pieces connected by an elastic bending section 22 extending parallel to the pin insertion direction. The switch terminal has a fixed end and a free end and the first and second movable contacts are provided in the second piece connected to the free end.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2839

10. Claims 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zech et al. (2001/0005645) in view of Okamoto (2002/0160641).

Zech shows all the features of these claims except the switch terminal having an S-shape. S-shaped terminals are well known in the art of electrical connectors. Okamoto shows such a terminal. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide such a feature to Zech's switch terminal because this would provide more flexibility to the terminal as taught by Okamoto.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Harasawa (2004/0180559) and Henry et al. (5741146).
